BEHAVIORAL EQ

A study of more than 500 executive search candidates identified emotional competence a significantly better predictor of success than intelligence or prior experience. Findings were consistent in all countries and cultures.

The same study showed that 85% of financial success is attributed to EQ while only 15% is due to IQ.

A study of partners at a public accounting firm found that partners with high EQ skills added 390% incremental profit while partners with high analytical reasoning skills contributed just 50% incremental profit.

Analysis of 33 different studies found that children who were taught social and emotional skills had an 11% gain in academic performance.

DEVELOP EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE WITH BEHAVIORAL EQ

Emotional Intelligence (EQ) has been shown to be as important as IQ, education and prior work experience when it comes to workplace success. But EQ skills do not come naturally to most people.

WHY BEHAVIORAL EQ?

TRACOM's Behavioral EQ takes the complex world of emotions and breaks it into the key concepts that managers and team leaders can understand and influence. Unlike earlier EQ models, Behavioral EQ is focused on those factors that are most important in the workplace. Based on the latest research in neuroscience, our EQ assessments provide objective input and allow for a constructive exploration of these sometimes sensitive issues.
